Grade 1 Aleph Bet Ceremony

The South Campus Grade 1 students proudly showed off their Hebrew knowledge and skills to their families at the recent Aleph Bet Ceremony. They have successfully completed learning the Aleph Bet, and they beautifully led a performance that was equally artistic and meaningful. Afterwards, the students and their guests gathered for some delicious treats and to view the students' "Hebrew Name Projects".

Internet Safety Workshop

Marc Saltzman presented a workshop on Information Literacy to the South Campus Middle School and Grade 4 and 5 students on Thursday February 4. Marc's presentation focused on internet safety. Students were informed about the danger of exposing too much information on social networking sites like Facebook. Marc offered his 10 tips for social networking safely. (Look for these tips in an upcoming Kids' Mail.) Having just returned from the annual Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas, Marc shared some of the latest technological inventions including a jacket that charges overnight and stays warm all day, headphones that turn into speakers, and mini-projectors that allow you to view media anywhere, anytime. The presentation ended with several students having decided what career path they would take: technology expert! Along with being a North Campus Leo Baeck parent, Marc Saltzman is a prolific freelance journalist, author, radio and TV host. He is one of North America's most recognized and trusted experts in the ever-changing world of high-tech.

Word of the Month Communicators

We understand and express ideas confidently and creatively in more than one language and in a variety of ways, verbal, non-verbal, creative. We work effectively and willingly in collaboration with others. Language is key to exploring personal development, cultural identity and intercultural understanding.

On Wednesday February 3, 10 students from Grades 4 and 5 energetically came out and took part in a coed basketball tournament held at the Hoop Dome. Although the team did not make it to the semi-finals, we were so proud of them. They came together as a group, played hard and maintained their spirit right up until the end! Way to go Leo Baeck South Campus!

More

One of the highlights of the month was the LBPA's Baeck 4 More, Starbaeck's Café Performance. Under the direction of Mike Levinsky, North Campus Middle School Coordinator, Leo Baeck teachers and parents performed a broad array of some of the most memorable pieces produced for Musical Theatre including Les Miserables, Wicked, Rent, Hairspray and Jersey Boys to name a few. In total, more than $20,000 was raised for the Arts, Athletics and Technology Fund at Leo Baeck.

PURIM PARTY

Leo Baeck's Second Annual PreSchool Purim Party was a great success with close to 200 attendees. Entertainment included a special Purim Concert by Mark Weinstock, face painters, caricaturists, carnival games with lots of prizes and free kosher treats!

Samara Roher, Rachel Strauss, Sophie Nisker and Madi Grubert were among the enthusiastic Middle School volunteers who helped run the carnival games.
